

4.1.1 Standard view

The "Standard View" and "Z" functions are available in the toolbar.

By pressing "Standard view", all visible elements are displayed in the graphic window (general zoom):

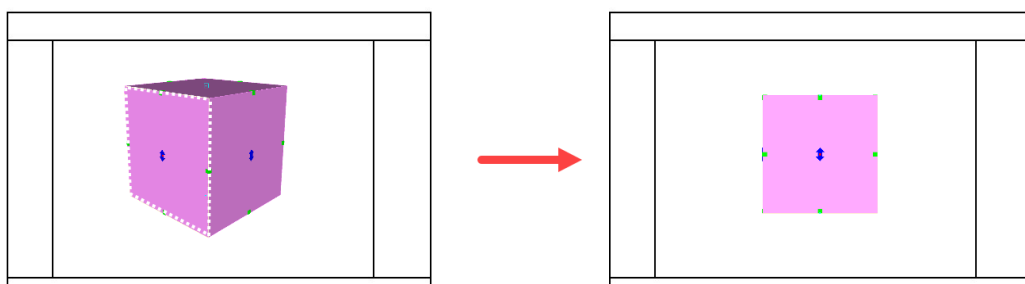

The following additional functions can be called up via "Standard view":

On active facet:

When a facet of an element is activated (the edges of the facet are highlighted in white), a front view of the activated facet takes place.

Animation:

If "Animation" is enabled, the view does not switch directly to the "Standard View" when "Standard View" is pressed, but slowly switches to that view. This can be useful for presentations or recordings for example.
